

Blue Gold- Outstanding mid-late variety. Good flavor and firm fruit. One of the easiest for hand-harvesting as they ripen uniformly. High yielding.

Tolerant to fluctuating temperatures and cold (-35°).

Bonus-The blueberries are quarter to half-dollar size which makes them the largest blueberries on the market . The berries are very firm, medium blue with very good flavor.

Chippewa- Short variety only reaching 3-4 ft. Fruits early and they are medium sized.

The fruit is firm and very sweet with very little acid. It is very cold hardy (-40°). This variety can be grown in a pot with winter protection.

Elizabeth- Elizabeth is a favorite of leading chefs. The balance of sweetness and tartness cannot be duplicated by any other variety. Berries ripen during midseason; the fruits are medium size.

Hannah's Choice- A very early ripening variety. The fruits are medium sized and firm.

The flavor is very fine with a high sugar brix compared to other early varieties. The flowers of this variety are tinged in pink, making it an excellent landscape plant.

Herbert- High dessert quality berry with sweet and high aromas. The berries are large and good for fresh markets. mid-late season.

Legacy- Superior flavor that is sweet with very little acid. The fruits are firm with long term storage capabilities. It has a medium sized berry with a small stem scar.

Patriot- Tolerates wet or clay soils. This variety is big and bountiful. The fruit has an outstanding flavor and is super-hardy.

Sweetheart- Vigorous plants, capable of producing 15 lbs. of fruit per plant per year. It is an early variety that is good to plant with Hannah's Choice. Light blue berries are medium size and very firm. The sweet flavor holds up well under storage.

Top Hat- A compact 24 inch plant that can be grown in a pot if given winter protection. It produces firm, dusky blue fruit that ripens in August. Self-pollinating.

Plant blueberries 5 feet apart in rows 8 to 10 feet apart. They grow best in full sun best in a well-drained sandy loam, rich in organic matter. Clay soils can be made suitable for blueberries by adding peat moss, pine soil conditioner and sand. Blueberries like acidic soil with a pH range of 4.5-5.0. Do a soil test before adding any amendments.